Eddie Vasil INTRODUCES

... Howard G. Poppe

"The story of a private detective" in movies, magazines, books, radio and television have glorified the private detective and therefore put him in the class of legendary figures, but the private detective, as exemplified by Howard G. Poppe, is an average American citizen, who has a definite place in serving the community.

Names like "private eye," "gun shoe" and "private dick" are titles only used in the above mentioned fields, and not by private detectives themselves. Their duties cover a large variety of activities which include not only the tracing of missing persons, but also the gathering of evidence in accidents and other cases. Participation in divorce proceedings and the "Sam Spade" type of assignments are very few in a Long Island private detective's office.

Howard G. Poppe was born in Brooklyn, but spent his childhood on Long Island. He was graduated from Baldwin High School, the New York State School for Police, at Troy, N. Y., and the New York State Traffic School at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. As a member of the New York State Troopers, stationed at Babylon and Sydney, N. Y., he became a very active member of the Trooper's Pistol Team which participated in many matches held on the East Coast including the Daily Mirror International Pistol Match. Trooper Poppe won many prizes and trophies in marksmanship.

During World War II he served in the U. S. Army Transport Service as Intelligence Officer on the transport General R. L. Howze. He was honorably discharged from the service in 1945 and started his own office, The Poppe Detective Agency, located in the First National Bank Building in Freeport.

Detective Poppe's entire background has been associated with police work. For the past three years he has been in charge of the policing and protection during the Mineola Fair. Frank A. Clark of Baltimore, a former Naval Intelligence officer is associated with Mr. Poppe in the detective agency and also in the Protective Devices Company, a subsidiary, authorized dealers in various safety devices for homes and businesses including Mosler safes.

Howard and his wife Phyllis are the parents of a seven-year-old daughter, Diane. He is a member of the Freeport Lodge of Elks, Associated American Detective Agencies, and National Detective Association. This six-foot, two-hundred pound young man is a typical American businessman and father. His hobbies include those regular Long Island sports of fishing, boating and golf.

Smith and Viebrock Picked as Candidates By the Unity Party

Commended for Work
On Village Behalf;
Election March 21

Leonard D. B. Smith and Cord Viebrock were nominated as candidates to succeed themselves at the convention of the Unity Party held in Exempt Firemen's Hall yesterday afternoon.

Dr. George A. Newton, the party president, presided at the meeting. Mr. Smith is completing his third year as a village trustee, while Mr. Viebrock is finishing his first year. He was appointed at the organization meeting last April to fill out the unexpired term of Robert L. Dossie as a trustee, when a vacancy was created by his elevation to the office of Mayor.

The work of both candidates was commended by various speakers at the meeting.

The village election will take place on Tuesday, March 21. Registration Day will be on Saturday, March 11. Tuesday, March 7 is the final day for filing party nominations.

Park Board Receiving Randall Park Applications.

Written applications for the use of the facilities provided at Randall Park during the 1950 season are now being received by the Freeport Park Commission. These applications must contain information concerning the hours and use desired, activities to be conducted, if ball teams or members of a league, if they are sponsored by the group. Permits will be issued on March 15. Applications should be addressed to George F. Hasbrouck, secretary of the commission, Municipal Building, Freeport, L. I.

Everett C. Furman, chairman of the commission, also announced the organizations desiring to solicit funds at events in the Municipal Stadium during the season should make application in writing as soon as possible to the commission, providing information as to the nature of their organizations, the use to which it is proposed to put the funds realized and other information that will be helpful to the commission.

Contributions Received Toward March of Dimes

The largest single contribution received to the Freeport March of Dimes during the week was that of $50 made by Harold G. Chapman. The next largest was $36.60, the proceeds of a tea party given by the Telephone Club and the Car Club. Kiddies "back-yard carnival" promoted by Bill and Matt Kenny, Gade Miller and Timothy O'Donnell, at 458 Archer st., yielded $27.11.

Other contributions were: Bennington Park Churches: Be the A.M.E., $12.66; Second Baptist Church, $9.05, and Church of God, $4.58.

$5.00—Mrs. Ella L. Marvin, Benjamin S. Reisman and Charles S. Aldrich.

$3.00—Dr. M. M. Laster.

Brownout is Observed Here as in Other Towns

Despite the fact that electricity in Freeport is generated in the municipally owned and operated diesel engine power plant in which no coal is consumed, the village is co-operating in the brownout ordered by government to conserve the dwindling supply of coal.

Officials of the village feel that Freeport should not do anything to take advantage of other communities which do not have their own power plants, by endeavoring to be exempt from the brownout restrictions, they say.

Six Freeporters Injured in Wreck; Firemen, Red Cross, Salvation Army Assist in Rescue and Relief Work

Heroic Service Given by Various Groups
At Disaster, Scenes at Which Exceed
Those of World War in Gruesomeness

Six Freeport residents were hospitalized for injuries suffered in the collision of Long Island Rail Road trains in Rockville Centre in which 29 persons lost their lives and more than 100 were injured. There were no fatalities of any people from this village. Of the six, one has been discharged, four are out of danger and the sixth is expected to recover. The most seriously injured is Irving Flannbaum, 51 West First st., former proprietor of the Bayview Pharmacy. He is in the South Nassau Communities hospital suffering from a skull fracture and broken ankles.

Others taken to the South Nassau Hospital were Herman Felstein, 39 Nor. Main st.; fractured ribs; William Garrity, 152 South Ocean ave., fractured jaw and head injuries; Francis Carson, 239 Rose st., cuts and bruises about the eyes, and Mrs. Florence Trayer, 32 Archer st., back injuries. Mrs. Trayer was discharged from the institution Tuesday.

James Hennessy, 126 Center st., who suffered a fractured right leg, is in the Mendowbrook Hospital.

Freeport firemen rendered heroic service at the scene of the accident. Deputy Chiefs Robert Kinsey and Julius Jacob were at the weekly meeting of the Friday Night Club in headquarters on North Main st. when the call for assistance came. Kinsey took charge, ordered the "9-9" first aid call sounded, and dispatched the First Aid ambulance and Hose truck to the scene of the accident with 35 men.

Arriving in Rockville Centre, second to Lyndbrook, the men reported to Mayor W. Harry J. Carlin and Chief Edmund Schmidt of the Rockville Centre Fire Department. They were asked to supply acetylene torches, stretchers, oxygen and lights which they had brought with them, and then directed to get the dead and injured out of the first car of the westbound train in which the most casualties occurred.

"It was one of the worst sights I've ever seen in my experience as a fireman," said Deputy Kinsey. "People were pinned under seats, doors and everything imaginable."

Using block and falls and jacks, the Freeporters took 12 persons out of the car.

Kinsey cited one case in particular. A man was pinned under a heavy steel platform. The body of another man was on top of him, and pressed against his left side directly over his heart was a steel bar about an inch in diameter. Any effort to move him would have driven the bar into his heart. How-

Rymaszewski Heirs Must Come To U. S. To Benefit By Bequests

John Rymaszewski, 33 Grand ave., who died on Jan. 12 and in a will filed in the Surrogate's Court mentioned relatives in Poland, stipulated that none of the money was to go beyond the confines of the United States.

And his widow, Louise Rymaszewski, who is a resident of and in business in Freeport, and now not in Poland despite stories emanating in Mineola, is a trustee of two trust funds set up for the education of two young nephews in that country, is hopeful they will be enabled to come to Freeport to obtain the benefits of the money. She plans to take them into her home if they do so.

Mr. Rymaszewski was born in Pittsburgh in 1898. About 1922 he went to Poland and remained abroad for 15 years. In 1924 he and Miss Louise Seneta were married. She comes of a noted family in that country. The couple had one daughter, though she modestly says she's just an American citizen, she has royal blood in her veins, though she only

1949 Stadium Receipts Increased to $65,104

Final figures issued by the Freeport exempted from the brownout receipts from events and other sources of income reposed $65,104.40, or 117 per cent more than the $30,000 anticipated when the 1948-50 budget of the village was adopted last April. Recently it was announced the receipts aggregated $64,898.68, but since then $30 has been received for additional commissions for crash fence advertising and $177.82 as the village's 20 per cent on the sale of programs.

Everett C. Furman, chairman of the commission, and his associates are elated over these figures.

Wettlaufer to Show Schoolmen In Jersey How to Train Band

J. Maynard Wettlaufer, director of the Freeport High School marching band is to put on a unique demonstration at the New Jersey All-State Band Clinic to be held in Teaneck, N.J., tomorrow and Saturday.

Donald Mairs, music director at Teaneck High is in charge, and band directors and school music teachers from all of New Jersey and surrounding area will attend.

A group of 40 non-trained school music students is to be recruited from the area and used as the guinea pig band. Mr. Wettlaufer, Diane Jordan, Freeport's majorette, and Lynn Benedict, former bandman and drummer will take the group over and attempt to teach the musicians to march and work out a few precision drills and formations in an hour and a half. Then the band directors will have another hour for a "question and answer" period. Anything can happen—and probably will—but it should be interesting.

Mr. Wettlaufer will also discuss his book, "Building A Show Band," which has received such commendation and presents many of the ideas used successfully at Freeport; and will show some slides and movies taken of the Freeport Band at the Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds.

A new series of band formations which use certain "tunes" as their theme, and which are being published by Mills Music Co., will also be shown. A couple of these—"Down By The Station" (with the Station and Old-Fashioned Train with the Moving Wheels), "America, I Love You" (with the Shield and Letters U.S. with the Two Jims Pageant) were seen at football games this past fall. Several others—"Dinah," "Margie," "Mary Lou," etc. are in the process of being published now.

Guest conductor of the all-state band will be Dr. Frank Simon, bandmaster and former conductor of the Arnoce Band. He will demonstrate conducting techniques, and direct the 160-piece band in the Saturday night concert which will be attended by all the visiting musicians.

H. Dudley Mairs, vice-president of the New York State School Music Association, music director at Babylon High, and twin brother of Donald, will be a guest speaker at the clinic program tomorrow afternoon. He will talk about the New York State Association.

Philip J. Lang, music arranger, who is a Freeporter, and has done much arranging of school music, has scored the music for several hit Broadway musical shows, and recently "presented" by Eddie Vasil will take part in the clinic in a presentation "Meet Your Arranger"—and will speak about sight-reading. Mr. Lang will discuss the problems of writing music to fit the needs of embryo musicians in school ranks, and how the arranger and school teach work hand-in-hand to promote good music.

F.H.S. Trackmen Race In Five City Meets

Varsity and freshmen track and field team members from Freeport High School competed in five indoor track meet during the winter season in New York City.

Notable among the medal winners are Co-captain Edmund O'Meally and Berkeley Swezey. Ed O'Meally put the shot 44 feet 8 inches to win second place in the annual Stuyvesant High School games. Swezey won first place in his heat of the 880-yard run in the remarkable time of 2:10.9.

Others who have competed include Co-captain John Cleary and Robert Geekie in the mile event, and freshmen Neal Bitcon, Alex Papakononou, John Oliver, and Dagid Brown in the dashes and relays.

Perhaps the high point of the indoor season was the participation of these boys in the National Inter-Scholastic Championship in Madison Square Garden on Saturday.

These boys participate at considerable personal inconvenience in order to gain valuable track experience under highly competitive conditions. Circumstances preclude the participation of full teams in the open meets. Consequently, only those boys who have demonstrated outstanding ability are permitted to compete.

Hempstead Marksman Defeat Freeport High

Roll Up Best Score Of Season, to Win By 919-907 Count

Shooting its high score of the year, the Hempstead High School rifle team defeated Freeport on the local range Tuesday afternoon, by a score of 919 to 907, in the South Shore Athletic League competition. It was the second defeat of the season for the Red Devils who are tied with Central High School, Valley Stream, for first place. Last Thursday the local boys defeated Chaminade 902 to 870.

Hempstead lead by 493 to 491 at the end of the prone matches, but the first three men for Freeport, in the off-hand competition shot like world-class marksmen. However, a couple of those in the second set fell down and so the invaders ended the day 12 points out in front.

I know it well; but oh, please wait a little while . . . not now . . .

That grief too great bespeaks a need of wisdom, none denies:

'tis true it folly proves indeed,
but oh, who would be wise?

I am too lonely now, and you too recently are gone.

These things they say I shall say too,
but later . . . later on.

DURYEY ORCHID CREATION The Auction Outlet store at 64-W. Merriell rd. is a Freeport counterpart of the general store of early Americana. Customers can spend many moments perusing over thousands of items offered for sale. It's a store, and this isn't intended as a commercial, which is patronized by those who want to stretch their buying muscles. Mrs. J. of Bejington Park was one of the customers last week. She, like the another, Mrs. W. of Midland, was looking for a dress. She wants to cooperate with the present campaign to help clean up this section of Freeport. She needed some paint and brushes. This column found out that MISS SUE BONNIE, an employee of this store, donated four hours of her day off to go into N.Y. and pick up the items needed, such as paint and brushes, and volunteer to take them at the price the customer could afford. (The store) did not take any money for this nice gesture we award the DURYEY ORCHID to MISS SUE BONNIE.

At a meeting of the Long Island Association's Membership Committee held for dinner at the Garden City Hotel a goal of 500 new members during 1950 was set. Many Freeporters To Attend Dinner Of St. Lawrence University Club

Many Freeport graduates are expected to attend the 55th annual dinner of the St. Lawrence University Club of New York to be held tonight in the Commodore Hotel, Manhattan. Kirt Douglas, motion picture star, is to be honored by his Alma Mater at the event. He is now appearing in Warner Bros. "Young Man with a Horn" at the Radio City Music Hall.

Martha Deane, of radio fame, who also studied at St. Lawrence U., will interview Douglas in the same manner as she does in her daily broadcasts over WOR.

Another feature will be a detailed presentation, by President Eugene G. Bewick, of extensive plans for the college, including an Athletic Arena to house hockey, basketball and other large athletic events. St. Lawrence will be the first college in the United States to have just this kind of facility, tailored-made, as it were, to fit St. Lawrence's particular location, in Northern New York State where it is in a position to capitalize on the popularity of winter sports.

The dinner program also will include selections by the Laurellian Singers, a mixed choir of 40 students from the college, and the showing of a technicolor motion picture "Your St. Lawrence." Russell White, chairman of the dinner committee, will officiate as master of ceremonies.

St. Lawrence University, located at Canton, New York, was established in 1865. It now has 1,450 students enrolled and 1,800 alumni in the metropolitan area, including such notables as Owen D. Young, Honorary Chairman of the Board, General Electric Company; Emily Eaton Hepburn, President, Old New York Historical Society; Irving Bacheller, author; Carlyle Black, President, American Can Company; Harold H. Schumacher, famous baseball pitcher; George S. Ven Schick, Vice-President, New York Life Insurance Company; Harold S. Sutton, Treasurer, Consolidated Edison Company; Raymond Gunnison, President, Reuben H. Donnelley Corporation.

Among Freeporters who have been graduated from St. Lawrence are: Miss Adele Barnard, 194 West Side ave., 13 Pi Beta Phi; Miss Dorothy Berge, 303 S. Long Beach ave., 43 Pi Beta Phi; Mrs. Cecil Bostick, 29 Elm place (Elizabeth Greenleaf), 55 AD Pi; Frank J. Dunn, Jr., 670 S. Grove st., Barry Dunn; Mrs. Leo Fisher, Jr., 504 S. Bayview ave., (Anne F. Cowles), 40 Pi Beta Phi; Dr. Leo Fisher, Jr., 304 S. Bayview ave., 38 Beta Theta Pi; Miss Helen Fleming, 124 N. will admit her family was among "the 400 of Poland."

Mr. Rymaszewski returned to the United States in 1937 and settled in New York. His wife followed the next year and the couple have lived on Long Island since 1938. They purchased Rhatigan's Grill, 984 South Grove st., which they re-named "John's Bar and Grill," two years ago. Mr. Rymaszewski owned the apartment house at 33 Grand ave., where she lives, for seven years.

The Rymaszewski will provide $5,000 for the benefit and education of a nephew, Andrzej Mroz, son of his sister, Wala Mrozowska, of Rzeszow, Poland, and contains a $6,000 bequest for Marek Rymaszewski, son of a deceased brother of Rzeszow, Poland. The former lady is 8 years old and the latter only 5. But as has been indicated these bequests are contingent on the boys coming to America to take advantage of the money.

He also disposed of land, he and his wife owned in Poland. And incidentally in requesting that inaccuracies in the original story be corrected so as to eliminate the impression that any of the money was to go to relatives living behind the Russian iron curtain in Poland and to make it plain that no longer lived in that country, Mrs. Rymaszewski hinted that she had extensive interests there in her own rights. The will was dated March 15, 1947.
